Peter's greatest contribution to public health was when he, in 2010, opened the archives of clinical study reports in the European Medicines Agency after a 3-year long battle that involved a complaint to the European Ombudsman. EMA was solely concerned with protecting the drug industry's interests while ignoring those of the patients. The Ombudsman ruled there was no commercially confident information in the study reports.

Peter has published over 100 papers in "the big five" (BMJ, Lancet, JAMA, Annals of Internal Medicine and New England Journal of Medicine) and his scientific works have been cited over 190,000 times (his H-index is 91 according to Web of Science, June 2023, which means that 91 papers have been cited at least 91 times). Peter is author of several books. The most recent ones are:

- Critical psychiatry textbook (2022).
- The Chinese virus: Killed millions and scientific freedom (2022).

Peter has given numerous interviews, one of which - about organised crime in the drug industry - has been seen by half a million on YouTube. Peter was in The Daily Show in New York on 16 Sept 2014 where he played the role of Deep Throat revealing secrets about big pharma. A documentary film about Peter's reform work, Diagnosing Psychiatry, appeared in 2017, and another one, with the working title, "The honest professor and the fall of the Cochrane empire," about his life and the moral collapse of the Cochrane Collaboration, is in production. Donations to the film can be given here.

Peter has an interest in statistics and research methodology. He has co-authored guidelines for good reporting: CONSORT for randomised trials, STROBE for observational studies, PRISMA for systematic reviews and meta-analyses, and SPIRIT for trial protocols. Peter was an editor in the Cochrane Methodology Review Group 1997-2014.
