well, there are the obvious foot- rubs, or REDACTE which are always good options.....

the less interesting choices: forcing yourself to exercise regularly, join some social activities (book clubs, theater groups, or maybe adult Ed classes- serious, or fluffy, like cooking). Would also explore any intrapsychic conflicts with Bobby B.....

(you can also call me .....)

We aren't supposed to do that anymore but will take it under consideration....

I know this isn't your problem but I have been feeling a bit depressed again lately...don't want to slip back where I was a few months ago...any suggestions for me doctor?
