Case No. 3AN 08-1252 PR

MOTION FOR EXPEDITED CONSIDERATION: Re:
MOTION TO STAY POLICE POWER FORCED DRUGGING ORDER

Pursuant to Civil Rule 77(g), Respondent hereby moves for expedited consideration of his Motion To Stay Police Power Forced Drugging Order. A decision on the underlying Motion is needed immediately because the petitioner, Alaska Psychiatric Institute (API) is taking the position that the stay contained within this Court's November 25, order granting API's forced drugging petition does not apply.¹ The undersigned counsel hereby certifies that, as the e-mails to petitioner's counsel, PsychRights has made a good faith effort with API's counsel to resolve this issue.² API's counsel will have been hand served with the motion for expedited consideration as well as the underlying Motion by the time the Court receives this motion.

Jim-

You assume incorrectly. The entire purpose of the order is to allow API to treat Mr. Bigley with emergency medication should he become a danger to himself or others. This is necessary because of the stay on the medications order.

Hi Erin and Laura,

I assume you agree with me that the Superior Court's Order regarding the emergency medications is stayed until December 17th or further order of the Superior Court or Supreme Court.
