

closely supervise high-risk patients. Prescribe in the smallest quantity consistent with good patient management to reduce the risk of overdose.

Specific Populations    Pregnancy.    Category C. (See Users Guide)

Lactation.    Aripiprazole is distributed into milk in rats. Not known whether aripiprazole is distributed into milk in humans. The manufacturer states that women receiving aripiprazole should not breast-feed.

Pediatric Use.    Safety and efficacy not established in children and adolescents younger than 18 years of age.

Geriatric Use.    Experience in patients with schizophrenia or bipolar mania who are 65 years of age and older insufficient to determine whether they respond differently from younger adults. Studies in patients with psychiatric symptoms in association with dementia of the Alzheimer's type have suggested that there may be a different tolerability profile in patients 65 years of age or

Abilify

AHFS DRUG INFORMATION® 2009

2463